EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Those were the days! Bengaluru did not even have television then. We got our own black and white TV sets in the early 80s and our own TV station much later. The great unifier, Doordarshan with its solo channel of limited timings, brought not just families but also their neighbours together to watch movies and epics on Sundays. Setting up of antennae on the terraces of independent houses announced the addition of the idiot box in households. Slowly the channels multiplied — spoiling us for choice and so did the screens.

Now, our mobile devices have replaced a long list of things: books, calendars, cameras, calculators, clocks, compasses, diaries, dictionaries, directories, encyclopaedias, notepads, radio, theatres, TVs, and typewriters. There is hardly any sharing of visual or audio content — each to their own, eyes glued to their respective screens and ear plugs in place, so symbolic of our self-centredness. Our world has shrunk to the size of our palms quite literally and the younger generation believes the pre-mobile era was the primitive dark ages.

REALLY...?

- Fog is made up of tiny water droplets or in extreme cold conditions, ice-crystals floating in the air, caused by cold air passing over warmer water or moist land. This warm moist air cools down as it mixes with the colder air, allowing condensation and fog to form.
- Fog can easily form over cities, because the tiny specks of dust or smoke can easily condense around the water droplets. This is called smog, which can cause breathing problems and make people ill, due to the fact it's a mixture of pollution and fog.

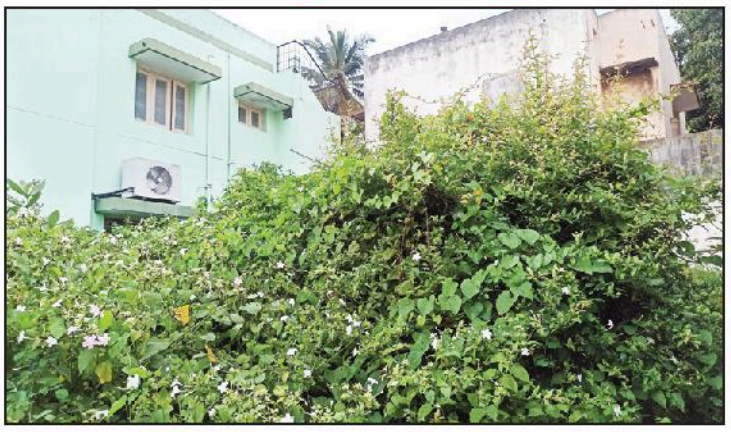
Uncleaned vacant site posing threat to neighbouring houses



Sir,

This is to bring to the notice of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) authorities that a vacant site in the busy street of Vinaya Marga Main Road in Siddarthanagar has not been cleaned for more than a year.

Trees/ weeds have grown wildly and the site has become a home for snakes, insects etc., thus posing a threat to the residents in the neighbourhood.

I have informed the site owner multiple times to get it cleaned but in vain. Some citizens do not have civic responsibility and ironically, the owner of this vacant site resides just a plot behind this site! I also brought it to the notice of local Corporator who resides in the same line but with no results. This is the sad plight of tax-paying and law-abiding citizens of our country.

I once again urge the authorities concerned and also the MCC Commissioner to take note of this and act quickly.

Decoration is like a clockwork

at Sri Kollapurada Mahalakshmi Temple

Mysuru, July 10 (MTY&BNR)- The number of devotees visiting temples swell during Ashada Masa (month) especially during Fridays which is considered to be auspicious. It is a treat to watch 'alankaras' (decoration) made to Goddess idols with various flowers and fruits at almost all temples during these days.

One such temple which attracts the art-loving eyes too is 200-year-old Sri Kollapurada Mahalakshmi Temple on Togari Beedi in K.R. Mohalla here, where the Goddess idol is uniquely decorated each Fridays during Ashada.

Temple Priest Venkatesh Bhat, the brain behind the unique alankaras, speaking to Star of Mysore, said: "It is a ritual carried out since past 30 years to decorate the Goddess idol innovatively on every Ashada Fridays. The 'alankara' will be removed after three days, on the night of Sunday."

Stating that on first Ashada Friday (July 1) this year, the idol was decorated with the concept 'Kashmira Puravasini' by creating Himalayas-like art around the main idol, the Priest said that on July 8, the idol was decorated with the concept 'Kalascha Narayanaha' — a statement from Upanishad. It will be removed tonight (July 10), he added.

Explaining further that the clock concept was to highlight the importance of valuing time, he said: "Clock alankara consists of over 3,000 all-new watches including wall clocks, wrist watches and toy watches. The wall clocks used in the alankara is set with times of 10 different countries apart from India — Canada, England, America, Dubai, New Zealand, Russia, Singapore, Japan, South Africa and Australia.

When asked about the next week 'alankara,' the creative Priest, who boasts of not repeating any alankara since 30 years after the temple was renovated, said it will be a suspense and visitors will only know when they come for Goddess darshan.

Measures to be taken for improving ground water table: Minister

Minor Irrigation Minister J.C. Madhuswamy along with Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda and officials inspecting the two Lift Irrigation Project works near Anandur village, KRS Backwaters yesterday.

Mysuru, July 10 (PM&DM)- Maintaining that his Department has expedited the Government's ambitious lake-filling projects in all districts of the State, Minor Irrigation Minister J.C. Madhuswamy said that the projects are aimed at improving groundwater table, supply water for drinking purposes and promote lift and other minor irrigation activities.

Speaking to presspersons after inspecting Eerappanakoppalu and Mydanahalli lift irrigation projects in Mysuru taluk and coming under Chamundeshwari Assembly segment yesterday, Madhuswamy said a project worth Rs.291 crore has been successfully implemented in Chamarajanagar, which has benefited farmers as over 54 lakes and other water bodies in Chamarajanagar district and Nanjangud taluk of Mysuru have been filled by pumping Kabini River water. The project has been extended to the rest of the lakes in Kollegal, Hanur and Gundlupet taluks, he added.

Continuing, Madhuswamy said that similar projects are being implemented in 14 other districts, including water starved Tumkur, Kolar and Chikkaballapur districts. Pointing out that this project fills the lakes throughout the year which would otherwise dry up during the summer, he said that the ground water table in several districts including Kolar and Chamarajanagar, where it had dropped, has improved after implementation of the project.

Referring to Eeranakoppalu lift irrigation project that is being executed at a cost of Rs. 50 crore and Maidanahalli lift irrigation project taken up at a cost of Rs. 20 crore, Madhuswamy said that the works on the project that is aimed at drawing water from KRS backwaters, has entered the final stage.

He further said that his Department has also given fillip to watershed development activities by expediting the construction of check dams. There is a provision for farmers to construct check dams and improve bunds under the MNREGA scheme, he added.

Madhuswamy also said that the State Government has extended the process of inviting applications for the distribution of Bagair Hukum land for another year. As the State Government was distributing title deeds and other land ownership rights to these land cultivators since 1989, the Government has decided to issue such title deeds for the farmers who had been cultivating this land before 2002, after verifying all their records, he pointed out.

The Eerappanhalli lift irrigation project will feed water to Karakanahalli, Karakanahalli Katte, Eerappanakoppalu, Nagavala, Huyilalu, Huyilalu Katte, Bommanahalli, Sahukarhundi, Jettihundi, Shankarapura, Hosahalli, Dasanakoppalu, Maratikyathanahalli, Kergalli, Ajjanahundi and Lingambudhi Lakes, while the Maidanahalli lift irrigation project will feed water to Maidanahalli, Megalapura, Yelwal, Anandur Katte, Yelachanhalli, Chikkanahalli and Koladakere Katte Lakes.

Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda, who accompanied Madhuswamy during the inspection, submitted a memorandum seeking expansion of the two lift irrigation projects so as to cover several other villages coming under the Constituency. He also sought release of Rs. 20 crore for revival of Anandur and Yedahalli lift irrigation projects in the taluk.

Former MLA Vasu, Minor irrigation Department Secretary Mrutyunjayaswamy, senior advocate Chandramouli, contractor K.B. Kumar and others were present.

Fake accident menace returns to haunt commuters

Mandya, July 10- A miscreant, who waylaid a car on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway, has extorted Rs. 23,000 from a Bengaluru resident after creating a fake accident story and threatening the car driver with a knife. The incident took place near the Factory Circle in Mandya.

One T.S. Chandrashekar, a resident of Bengaluru, was proceeding towards Bengaluru from Mysuru in his Hyundai i10 car (KL-22-H-9020) and when he neared the Factory Circle in Mandya, a miscreant on a Suzuki Access scooter (KA-11-EQ-2858) overtook the car and stopped him.

When Chandrashekar stopped the car, the miscreant came and sat inside the car and told Chandrashekar that he had hit his scooter causing damages to the scooter and also injuring him. The miscreant then demanded Rs. 23,000 from Chandrashekar.

When he (Chandrashekar) told the miscreant that he had never hit any scooter during his journey from Mysuru, the miscreant suddenly brandished a knife and threatened Chandrashekar of stabbing him.

Chandrashekar then told the miscreant that he had only Rs. 5,000 with him and gave the money to the miscreant. But the miscreant told Chandrashekar to withdraw cash from the nearby ATM and give him to which Chandrashekar told him that he did not have the ATM card with him.

The miscreant then made Chandrashekar to alight from the car and took him to a beeda stall on the side of Mysuru-Bengaluru Road and told Chandrashekar that he was surrounded and if he did not give the money they would kill him.

Left with no other options, Chandrashekar got the money transferred from his friend's wife Bank account and also from his brother Mohanraj's account and then transferred the money via Google Pay to the Mobile Phone number 99167-92308 which was given by the miscreant.

Based on the complaint from Chandrashekar, Mandya East Police, who have registered a case, are investigating.

Ramprakash, to avoid power connection being disconnected installed the App and followed the instructions during the installation. Soon, the fraudsters siphoned off Rs. 4.40 lakh from his bank account.

In the second case, 80-year-old Vatsalchari, a resident of Yadavagiri, received a message on his mobile phone which asked him to update his power bill failing which power would be disconnected to his house. Farmers to lay siege to CM's house on July 11

Mysuru, July 10 (RKB&DM)- Alleging that the Government has failed to address farmer issues and the problems of sugarcane growers, the KRRS (Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha) will lay siege to the residence of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai at Bengaluru on July 11.

Announcing this at a press meet here, KRRS President Badagalapura Nagendra accused the Government of failing to fulfill farmer demands such as fixation of FRP (Fair and Remunerative Price) for sugarcane at Rs.4,500 per ton, payment of arrears by sugarcane factories etc.

Claiming that Sugar factories are paying the farmers less than the FRP fixed by the Union Government, Nagendra said that the laying of siege to the CM's house is aimed at drawing the attention of the Government to the plight of distraught farmers.

The farmers will converge at KSR Bangalore Railway Station (Majestic) at 11 am on July 11, from where they will march in a procession to the CM's residence, he said.

KRRS office-bearers Hosur Kumar, P. Marankaiah, Hoskote Basavaraj, Saragur Nataraj, Prabhakar Anandur, Mandakalli Mahesh and others were present at the press meet.

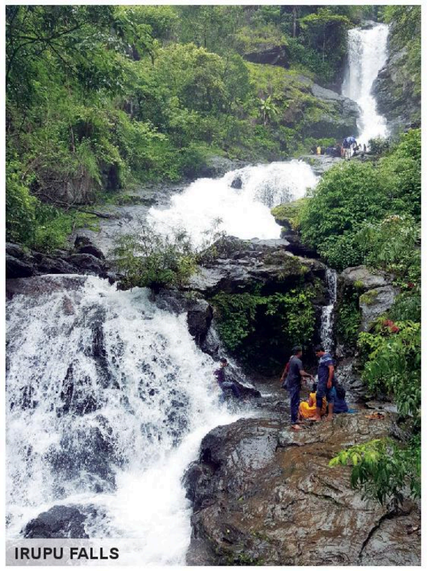
Kodagu waterfalls roar in full glory

ABBEY FALLS

MALLALLI FALLS



IRUPU FALLS

CHELAVARA FALLS

Kushalnagar, July 10 (Akshay&BCT)- It is raining heavily in Kodagu and almost all the waterfalls in the district have come alive with a milky-white flow, accompanied by the gushing sound. The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has forecast that rains will only intensify in the coming days.

Though the rains have wreaked havoc on the lives of people with relentless downpour resulting in landslides, roadblocks, tree falls, power outages, closed educational institutions, lack of movement of people on the roads and also lack of transportation from one place to another, the rains have resulted in the bountiful cascading of water from the mountains to the downstream.

The lush green surroundings, chill amidst drizzle and also the beauty of the waterfalls is beckoning tourists who are taking the risk of travelling from far-off places like Mysuru and Bengaluru just to see nature's beauty.

While there are many waterfalls that are familiar to the tourists like the Abbey Falls in Madikeri, Mallalli Falls on the way to Somwarpet and the Irupu Falls to the South of the district, there are many unknown and least explored waterfalls combined with the scenic beauty of mountains.

ABBEY FALLS

The Abbey Falls is located at around 8 kilometres from Madikeri and hundreds of tourists are visiting this waterfall that is amidst coffee plantations. Before it was formally renamed Abbey Falls, it was named Jessy Falls during British rule and Jessy was the name of a British officer's wife.

The person who built a coffee estate around the Abbey Falls that increases the beauty of the waterfalls is Neravanda B. Nanaiah. The waterfall now is nestled amidst a green plantation and the tourist flow to the place earns a handsome revenue to the Madikeri City Municipal Council in the form of entry tickets and parking charges.

MALLALLI FALLS

Situated in the northern part of Kodagu, the Mallalli Falls is one of the main tourist attractions and a dangerous one too. Fortunately, the Kodagu District Administration has erected barricades and now no one can enter the water which was accessible earlier. Still, some enthusiastic youths climb the falls from below when the water is less.

Kumaradhara River is the main source for the waterfall and now it is in full glory as it is raining heavily in the Pushpagiri Hill ranges. The river travels to Dakshina Kannada via Kukke Subramanya from here.

IRUPU FALLS

Another popular waterfall in the southern part of Kodagu is the Irupu Falls which is located in the Brahmagiri Hill Ranges, bordering the Wayanad district of Kerala. It is a fresh-water cascade on the highway to Nagarahole National Park. One has to trek for some distance before getting to see the water and hear the gushing sound of water falling from a mountain.

The waterfall is also known as the Lakshmanatheertha Falls, derived from Lakshmanatheertha, a tributary of River Cauvery. A famous Shiva Temple — Rameshwara Temple — is situated near the Lakshmanatheertha River, en route to the Falls.

CHELAVARA FALLS

Youths, especially college students, are attracted to Chelavara Falls and this explains the high death rate at this place where a couple of students who ventured into the water have met their death.

Now, after much demand from the local villagers, many warning boards have been erected at the waterfall surroundings. But for the dangerous aspect, the waterfall is bewitchingly beautiful.

It is a natural waterfall formed by a small stream, a tributary of River Cauvery near Cheyyandane on the Virajpet-Talacauvery State Highway. The water here falls from a height of over 100 ft.

KOTE ABBEY FALLS

CHIKLIHOLE DAM

Chiklihole Dam is a small reservoir near Rangasamudra that provides water to local farmers and the scenic place is located in a reserve forest. It is located around 13 km from Kushalnagar on the road which leads to Siddapur town near Dubare Elephant Camp. One has to travel around two km into the forest to reach the Dam.

One of the smallest reservoirs in the Cauvery basin, Chiklihole Dam is the first Dam to be filled to the brim due to heavy rains in the region. It is a sight to see as water gushes down from the half-moon-shaped Chiklihole Dam, displaying its scenic beauty. This Dam does not have any crest gates but water collects in a well-like enclosure with a relatively large outlet.

CHIKLIHOLE DAM

KOTE ABBEY FALLS

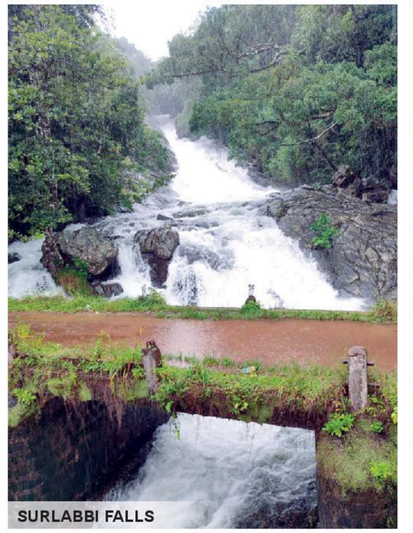
Kote Abbey Falls is located at Makkandur Gram Panchayat (GP) limits. The exact location is near Avandi village, about 14 km from Madikeri and comes under Makkandur GP.

The Falls, situated in the midst of lush green environs, were lesser known until a few years ago. But it gradually turned out into a popular tourist destination in the past couple of years, with tourists flocking to the Falls on a regular basis.

An encouraging factor here is that with the Falls turning out into a major tourist attraction, the local villagers have taken upon themselves the responsibility of maintaining nature's beauty. They guard the Falls, keeping a watch on the activities of visitors.

SURLABBI FALLS

The Medura Abbi Falls or Surlabbi Falls is another least explored waterfalls in Kodagu district. It is located in Somwarpet taluk between the Garwale and Surlabbi villages. Surlabbi Falls is a natural waterfall formed by a small stream. It flows through several steps through rocks. The waterfall is locally also known as Medarahole Falls. The waterfall is a wonderful sight as the water gushes from the rocks amidst the green environs.



SURLABBI FALLS

ABBI KOLLI FALLS

Located on the Highway between Madikeri and Mangaluru, the Abbi Kolli Falls has its origin in Monnangeri village. It is the most sought-after tourist destination and an unofficial rest stop for all those who travel along National Highway 275.

The waterfall presents a surreal scenery rich with natural beauty and tranquillity. During summer, the waterfall is literally dead and no one even notices it. But come monsoon, the sound of the gushing water is heard from a distance and commuters stop over for a refreshing sprinkle of cold water that flows from the hill on their tired faces.

9th Season of reality TV series 'Snake City' shot in Mysuru

Simon Keys, Siouxsie Gillett and team stay in city for 36 days; 8th Season to premiere on July 18

Mysuru, July 10 (MTY&BCT)- Mysuru will feature in the Ninth Season of National Geographic's 'Snake City' or 'Snakes In The City', a documentary-style reality TV series revolving around the daily life of snake rescuers Simon Keys and his herpetologist girlfriend Siouxsie Gillett. Mysuru is the first city in Asia selected for conducting a documentary study on snakes.

The Eighth Season will be premièred on July 18 and after which, Mysuru will be featured in the Ninth Season. In the series, Simon and Siouxsie, experts in animal behaviour, hunt down and capture by hand, the world's most dangerous and venomous snakes that emerge every summer. They then release these problem snakes back in the wild away from humans.

To shoot the series, Simon and Siouxsie along with a seven-member team stayed in Mysuru for more than a month to conduct the study, rescue and picture the documentaries on snakes. And city's well-known snake rescuer and wildlife conservationist Snake Shyam supported the team in their adventure.

36 days in Mysuru

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Snake Shyam said that the team, comprising Simon and Siouxsie, production head Ben, three cameramen and three assistants, were in Mysuru for about 36 days and left on June 16.

"They were put up at Radisson Blu Plaza Hotel and they used to come with me for snake rescues, except on Sundays. It was a good experience shooting with the team and the team was also creating awareness about snakes. Mostly we rescued cobras and Russel's Vipers and Common Kraits and the highlight of the shoot were scientific aspects of the species and their protection," he said.

Travelled in autos

"The team also travelled in my autorickshaw as and when I get a snake rescue call. On average, I used to get 15 calls every day and I would send them locations. The team would be selective while choosing the locations like the snakes hidden amidst firewood, bricks, houses, industrial areas and certain crevices. In all, the team would have closely shot over 25 to 30 snakes while they observed over 267 snakes in the Mysuru region and rescued over 60," Snake Shyam recalled.

Mentioning that Simon and Siouxsie were surprised to learn that snakes are worshipped in India, especially in the Mysuru region. "The couple sought to explain to people about the misconception of '12-year revenge' and appealed to people not to harm this wonderful creation of nature. They also urged people to educate children about the sensitive ecological balance achieved by snakes. Wherever they visited, they launched a programme called Training New Friends," Shyam said.

On the likely time of Season Nine to premiere, Snake Shyam said that the team has to edit the videos and finalise narration before the documentary is screened. "It might take time and moreover the Eighth Season is being aired from July 18," he added.

Ranganathittu boating suspended

Mysuru, July 10 (MTY, Vinay Karekura&SSM) - Boating facility has been temporarily suspended at Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary from yesterday following release of a large quantity of water to Cauvery River from KRS Dam.

As there is heavy downpour in Kodagu, the inflow of water to KRS Dam has increased. Once the water is released from the KRS reservoir, which is located near Srirangapatna, the water cascades downstream resulting in the increase of water level of River Cauvery in Ranganathittu.

As only 2 ft. is left for KRS Dam to fill completely, the water is being released based on the inflow of the water to the dam.

As per the orders issued from the top officials 13,000 cusecs water was released from the Dam yesterday morning. The people residing in low-lying areas have been alerted, as the outflow from the KRS Dam may increase following heavy inflow.

Keeping the safety of tourists in mind, Deputy Conservators of Forests (DCF) Dr. V. Karikalan has issued an order to withdraw boating activities for a short period of time. All the boats have been shifted and tied in a safe place.

However, there will be no restrictions on entry of visitors to the sanctuary. Battery-run vehicle facility is available. If more than 60,000 cusecs water is released from KRS Dam, then orders may be issued to temporarily close down the Bird Sanctuary.

High alert sounded

Range Forest Officer (RFO) Santosh Hugar and DRFO M. Puttamadegowda has directed the Bird Sanctuary staff to keep an eye on the inflow and have asked them to make sure no tourists venture near the river.

Fire Department survey

Chief Fire officer Jayaram along with other Fire Officials Naveen and Gururaj visited Ranganathittu this morning and inspected the place.

They have directed the staff to follow safety measures as the outflow from the KRS Dam might be increased. They have set up a team which will help in the safety management. Vehicles and boats have been put in place in case of emergencies.

The officials will conduct inspections around Nimishamba Temple, Karekura Village, T. Narasipur and Kollegal taluks which are close to River Cauvery. Before their visit to the Bird Sanctuary, the officials visited KRS Dam, Edamuri and Balamuri Falls.

They are seen with Hospital Clinical Director Dr. M.N. Ravi and Facility Director Pavan Kumar.

Many waterlogged areas in Kodagu await relief

Thannimani

Koynadu School

As per the Seismic Intensity Map of the earthquake from the epicentre, the intensity observed is low and the tremor was felt up to a radial distance of 20-30 km from the epicentre.

Koynadu village in Madikeri taluk is the worst affected by the rains as water has entered many houses and some of the houses have been surrounded by at least 5-ft water. Residents have moved to safer places with their vehicles and valuables and the District Administration is planning to open relief centres.

The hill behind Koynadu Government Primary School has collapsed today. However, as of now, there has been no damage reported to the school building. At the Kindi Dam in Koynadu, tonnes of driftwood have gathered as the flood water is carrying them along.

Roads submerged, washed away

The Bhagamandala-Napoklu Road & Bhagamandala-Madikeri Road have been submerged in many places and vehicle movement has been banned. As a precaution, the District Administration has banned movement of heavy vehicles like timber trucks on the roads. However, buses, milk trucks, LPG and fuel supply vehicles are exempted.

The road that connects Kudupaje ancestral house at Thannimani in Bhagamandala has been washed away. The road is taken by many families daily and this is the only link road. Even the children go to school and the elderly are taken to hospitals on this road. Many residents are awaiting help from the District Administration and relief teams.

Boats have been pressed into service at Bhagamandala and they are being operated by the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) and Home Guards. The Mukkodlu Bhadrakali Temple has been surrounded by flood water and the link between Hodakana and Mukkodlu has been disrupted.

30,000 cusecs from Harangi

Owing to heavy rainfall, the outflow from Harangi Dam has been stepped up and today morning, over 30,000 cusecs are being released as the Dam has over 25,000 cusecs inflow. Both the Harangi and Cauvery rivers bring water in full force to the Dam and the outflow is being planned accordingly.

The bridge in front of the Harangi Dam has been submerged and the Cauvery Nisargadhama has been closed for boating now. If the outflow increases, the entire Nisargadhama will be shut.

10 tmcft water since June 2022

According to Harangi Dam engineers, from June this year, 10 tmcft (thousand million cubic feet) of water has flown into Harangi Dam and out of it, 9 tmcft of water has been released to the Krishna Raja Sagar Dam.

As the outflow had been increased, many low-lying areas in Kushalnagar like Sai Layout are in danger of being submerged. Residents have been asked to move to safer places and the Town Panchayat has arranged vehicles for the people to shift their valuables. Boats are being arranged and relief from NDRF will be sought if the situation worsens.

Dubare closed

Access to Dubare Elephant camp has been cut off and tourists are barred from the tourist place as River Cauvery is flowing above the danger mark and with full force.

Yesterday, a boat carrying tribals and other villagers from one side of Dubare to the Elephant camp suffered a technical snag and over 10 people on the boat were stranded in the middle of the river.

As the water was in full force, the boat was being carried away by the water current. Due to the presence of mind of the boatman, he took the boat near a tree branch so that people could hold the branch and stay afloat. The boat then came to a standstill and the people were brought to safety with another motor boat.
